EXTENSION NEWS

G .L. James, Farm Agent

There were eight 4-H club members from Appomattox attending the 4-H Short Course (29 to 3d.) at Virginia State College. The delegates were: Clinton Turner, Hersel Forbes, Bobby Hix, and Ernest Humbles. The girls were Ora Scruggs, Mildred Johnson and Barbara Forbes. The accompanying adult leader was Mrs. Theda M. Harris. The attending members are selected each year, due to their outstanding project work efforts and club work activities. The delegates attended the division classes for instruction on: parliamentary procedure, judging, recreation, arts and crafts, good grooming, etc., and also participated as committee members, working on Short Course program planning. Hersel Forbes placed fifth in the State Tractor Driving contest this year. Hersel is also going to repeat—his brother's efforts—William Forbes, who won the State Driving championship, two years ago. Mrs. T. M. Harris, a very ardent 4-H leader and carrier of the 4-H banner through the years, was actively engaged in laying the framework for the formation of the State 4-H Leaders 4-H organization at the college. The next 4-H State meeting this summer, is the Wild-Life Conference to be held in August at Virginia State College. The Appomattox 4-H members attending this three-day meeting will be: Franklin Walker, Gilbert James, Jr., and Robert Humbles. The annual State Farmers Conference is being held this week, 6-7, and at the college. In addition to the special features offered from the college, special interest sessions will be held on farm machinery, poultry, home management and beautification. Outstanding speakers are invited, and the farm people always enjoy this meeting. Farmers planning to attend from Appomattox are: Charlie Williams, George Scruggs, Sam Jones and Roosevelt Forbes. The Farm Agent will accompany the group.
